ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

1.1 The company

The Company's scope, as laid down in article 3 of its Articles of Association and following the decision of the First Repeat Ordinary General Meeting dated 20.4.2015, is the exclusive management of transferable securities portfolios pursuant to law 3371/2005 and 4209/2013 and complementarily of law 4548/2018, as in force each time. In particular, the Company establishes an Alternative Investment Fund (AIF) in the sense of law 4209/2013 and assigns the entirety of its management, pursuant to article 6 par. 2b of law 4209/2013 exclusively to an external Alternative Investment Fund Manager, which complies with all conditions set forth by law 4209/2013.

The Company's intention is to achieve satisfactory returns for its shareholders, adjusted to the undertaken risk, through capital gains and revenues, by investing to equity and other securities primarily of Greek investors. Its investment horizon is mid-long term. Moreover, the company intends to distribute as a satisfactory dividend to its shareholders, as possible.

Over time, the company tends to perform better than the Athex Composite Index Total Return. However, in 2022, the company portfolio under-performed in relation to the Athex Composite Index Total Return of the Athens Stock Exchange mainly due to the higher participation of bank securities in the said Index.

On the other hand, the companies that we have invested into in the Company portfolio showed exceptional financial returns, since the majority achieved a significant rise in their financial volumes, maintain their resilience and show positive perspectives, creating expectations for satisfactory future performances.

1.2 Progress, performance and company's position

In 2022 the Greek market stepped into the new year with optimism, with the result that the General Index reached 973.27 units within February, recording the optimal performance among all European stock-markets. The bank index was a source of assistance to such rise, reaching the highest level of the last two years, thus setting in stone the estimates for the positive future trajectory of the Greek economy.

However, afterwards the Russian invasion in Ukraine, the further increase of the inflation and the reversal of the monetary policy from the Central Banks of the USA and the Euro zone, resulted to strong liquidations in all stock markets, including the Greek market.

Thus, the first quarter of 2022 ended for the Greek Stock Exchange with small losses - 1.55% and the Composite Index closed at 879.5 units.

However, in April and while the Ukrainian crisis was unfolding and China implemented severe quarantine measures for covid-19, the Greek stock exchange became independent, as S&P upgraded the rating of Greek economy to BB+ with the result that the Composite Index reached 922.43 units.

In May the scenery changed, as April inflation reached 10.2%. Two more companies Ethniki and Mytilinaios were listed in the MSCI Standard Greece Index, but the Composite Index receded at the end of the month at 890.70 units.

In June FED inaugurated generous interest rate increases acknowledging that inflation had to be harnessed. Greek inflation in May reached 11.3%. Thus, during the first semester of the year, the volatility in the Stock Exchange remained at high levels amidst intense concerns for the deepening of the energy crisis, increasing inflation, raising interest rates and increased recess likelihood, resulting to the Composite Index recording losses of circa 9.3%, closing at 810.42 units.

The Central Banks carried on the interest rate increases, while in Greece, the extraordinary performance of the Banks following the publication of the interim financial results, retained the Composite Index at 856.36 units at the end of August.

During the third trimester of 2022, the increase of money cost in conjunction with the inflation pressures and the scale-up of the Ukrainian crisis, increased uncertainty both in the Greek as well as in international stock markets. The revision of the estimates on the duration and size of recess in major economies, the decline in bond markets, as well as the corresponding increase of the insurance risk for the shares, did not leave large differentiation margins in the domestic stock market despite the positive trajectory of the Greek economy and the satisfactory profitability of the listed companies. Thus, the Composite Index recorded the lowest return for the year at 788.46 units, closing at the end of September at 792.90 units.

During the last quarter of the year while the Ukrainian crisis was still on-going and the Central Banks continued their policy of increasing their interest rates, the recess of the natural gas prices relieved the economies and assisted the markets. TERNA Energy became the 9th share of the MSCI Standard Greece index and several investment houses upgraded the Greek banks' ratings with their reports. The stock market showed high resilience and achieved to reverse the negative climate that prevailed until the end of September, recording during profits of about 17.26% during the fourth trimester of 2022.

The reversal of this climate was also assisted by the positive trajectory of the international markets which set in stone the slowdown of the interest rates increase pace by the Central Banks due to the gradual de-escalation of the inflation, which though is anticipated to be certified within 2023. Additionally, the exceptional financial returns of the 9-month term and the year 2022 which were published by the companies listed in the Stock-Exchange substantiated their valuations which in several cases were particularly appealing, thus spurring further investment interest for several listed companies. However, the estimates for the profitability of year 2023 present several challenges, given that it is really hard to specify the future course of the cost, despite the signs of de-escalation.

Thus, ATHEX managed to differentiate itself positively during a rough year from the remaining developed markets, as it closed the year at 929.79 units with profits 4.08%.

At a macroeconomic level, Greek economy's recovery continued while in 2022 it recorded a rise of 5.9%, a performance which is higher from the average one in the Euro zone (3.5%).

1.4 Main risks and uncertainties

1.4.1. Financial Instruments' Risk Management

The Company's investment portfolio includes financial products according to its investment strategy and the limitations imposed by Law 3371/2005 that defines the investment limits and the nature of investments of portfolio investment companies. The investment portfolio includes listed domestic stocks, bonds of the Greek state, corporate bonds and derivatives.

The Company's portfolio management as well as risk management (Investment Management), according to decisions of its Board of Directors dated 22/02/2018 and 31/05/2022 have been assigned under a "Management Agreement of an Alternative Investment Fund", to ALPHA TRUST MUTUAL FUND AND ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT FUND MANAGEMENT S.A. that exercises the investment policy determined. The Board of Directors has also designated an Investment Committee, which has an exclusively advisory nature as regards investment issues of the Company.

The Company's Board of Directors, aiming at limiting and controlling the risks of the investment portfolio, has determined the necessary procedures and assigned risk management via a Contract to the Manager, which uses portfolio risk monitoring systems that correspond to the Company's risk profile, so as to ensure that all the basic risks are measured accurately.

1. Credit risk

Credit risk pertains to cases of counterparty default. This category includes mainly government and corporate bonds, bonds repurchase agreements (repos), receivables from brokers and cash in banks. To evaluate the credit risk, portfolio allocation by credit rating is used.

To evaluate the credit risk, portfolio allocation is used by credit rating obtained through Bloomberg, which arises from the composition of credit ratings, as these are provided by the four major credit rating firms (S&P, Moody's, Fitch and DBRS). In case the result is between two credit ratings, the lower one is used.

Receivables from brokers

Receivables from brokers concern mainly sales of securities of the last two days, margin accounts and guarantees.

The credit risk of these receivables is considered small due to the limited deadline for settlement and to the utilization of counterparties.

Cash

The company has deposits with banks the credit rating of which is being monitored.

Derivatives

During the financial year the Company did not use any derivative financial instruments.

2. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk of failing to meet financial obligations when due, as a result of lack of the necessary liquidity. Liquidity risk pertains to the extent at which an investment position or part of the portfolio can be liquidated (as a percentage of the total value and the required time period for the full liquidation of the portfolio).

Accordingly, as regards a given portfolio composition, the percentage that can be liquidated per day and the necessary period for full portfolio liquidation are estimated, based on the merchantability of individual positions therein (source: Bloomberg). For conservative approach purposes, it is considered that a share volume exceeding one third of the average daily trading volume during the previous quarter cannot be liquidated (investments in cash, term deposits and money market funds are considered to be highly liquid).

3. Market risk

Market risk pertains to the possibility of loss due to change to the market price of shares, interest rates, currencies, e.tc.

To limit the risk, the Company selects the companies in which it invests on qualitative and economic criteria. The Company will not invest more than 20% of its equity in transferable securities of the same issuer.

Currency risk

The impact from the change of the exchange rates between various currencies do not materially affect the Company's results given that almost the entirety of the Company's assets is invested in euro (€).

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from changes in the rate markets. Changes in interest rates greatly affect the present value of expected flows from an investment or liability.

Value at Risk – VaR

The Company makes sure that the method of calculation of the total risk exposure is adequate, precise and reliable. For that reason, the Historical VaR methodology has been selected and its calculation is made on a daily basis using the application of Systemic SA. The value-at-risk approach is applied to the portfolio of the Investment Trust and its benchmark index on a daily basis, taking into account the following parameters:

- Confidence level of 99%,
- tracking period of risk factors of one (1) year (two hundred and fifty working days) from the date of calculation,
- investment horizon of one (1) month (twenty (20) working days)
- the portfolio value-at-risk should be expressed as a proportion (%) of the Company's current value, (similarly for the case of the benchmark portfolio),

alphatrust andromeda

- checking that the portfolio's Value-at-Risk is not more than twice the Value-at-Risk of the benchmark portfolio, in order to ensure the Company's total leverage ratio remains under.

It is noted that the above market risk calculation methodology does not only include the sensitivity of portfolio returns to major market risks (equity, interest rate, currency) to which the portfolio is exposed, but also to the correlations among them. Therefore, it is considered to provide a better and more realistic estimate of the total market risk for the portfolio.

Furthermore, the Company implements a program of retrospective controls (Back Testing), allowing it to compare the measurements of value-at-risk it has calculated against the daily change of the value of the Investment Trust's portfolio at the end of the following working day.

Additionally, the Company implements a system of stress testing based on strict and sufficient criteria for risk calculation. These tests are applied on a monthly basis, using the portfolio composition of the last working day of the previous month, and focusing on risks that may emerge due to specific extreme historic scenarios or under conditions of unlikely changes such as in conditions of lack of liquidity or of realization of a credit event in the markets in which the Company's portfolio invests. The stress tests focus on risks not fully covered by the value-at-risk method.

As regards fixed income securities, the sensitivity of bond prices is estimated at marginal change of interest rate levels through "duration".

4. Operational risk

Operational risk is the risk linked to the possibility of occurrence of a direct or indirect damage from a variety of factors linked to the Company's internal procedures, its IT systems and infrastructure but also external factors such as the various providers, the institutional framework and the generally accepted standards of investment management behavior.

The Company's aim is to manage operational risk in a way that reduces the possible damage to its reputation and achieves the targets set for its shareholders. The Board of Directors is totally responsible for the development and implementation of the procedures required for the smooth conduct of the Company's activities.

The management of the Company's portfolio, as well as risk management (Investment Management) in accordance with the BoD decisions dated 22/02/2018 and 31/05/2022 has been assigned with "Management Agreement of an Alternative Investment Fund". Both companies are supervised by the Capital Market Commission.

The following should also be noted:

- a) The above contract is renewed regularly, on an annual basis and is each time approved by the Ordinary General Shareholders Meeting.

alphatrust andromeda

- b) According to the law, all securities and cash are kept by an independent custodian, the latter also signing the list of portfolio investments published and brought to the attention of the investment community.
- c) Internal audit cooperates with and monitors the various activities assigned to ALPHA TRUST Mutual Fund and Alternative Investment Fund Management S.A. discouraging and minimizing the possibility of the appearance of issues that could cause problems in the Company's operation.
- d) The Company's Managing Director monitors daily the implementation of these contracts and resolves immediately any operational issues that could arise.

Counterparty Risk:

Its measurement requires the capturing of the daily receivables / obligations towards the counterparty, i.e. the custodian, given that all transactions take place in organized markets. Should the portfolio carry out transactions on financial instruments that are non-negotiable on an organized market, the counterparty risk is calculated based on the value-at-risk, in the event the counterparty does not fulfill its obligations.

1.4.2 Other risks

Apart from the portfolio risks, the following risk is also examined:

- Assignment risk: The BoD estimates that the risk of assigning activities to an external associate via a contract is virtually negligible, given that:

- a) these contracts are regularly renewed on an annual basis from the Ordinary General Shareholders Meeting.
- b) the Managing Director is regularly informed, monitoring the daily execution of these contracts and,
- c) The internal audit service that directly monitors their execution, under the supervision of the Audit Committee, minimizes the possibility that a relevant risk should emerge.

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as they have been transposed in the Greek Legislation. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the “Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements” section of our report. During our entire appointment, we remained independent of the Company, in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants’ Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) as transposed in Greek legislation and the ethical requirements relevant to the audit of the financial statements in Greece. We have fulfilled our responsibilities in accordance with the provisions of the currently enacted law and the requirements of the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the period under audit. These matters, as well as the related risk of significant misstatements, were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information included in the Board of Director's Report, the reference to which is made in the "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements" section of our Report and Statements of the Members of the Board of Directors, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on our audit, we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate that matter. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charges with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards that have been adopted by the European Union and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the management's intention is to proceed with liquidating the Company or discontinuing its operations or unless the management has no other realistic option but to proceed with those actions.

The Company's Audit Committee (Article 44, Law 4449/2017) is responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as an aggregate, are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs, incorporated into the Greek Legislation, will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to affect the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, incorporated into the Greek Legislation, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than that resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters.

2 Summary of main accounting policies

2.1 Framework of preparation of the financial statements

These financial statements for the period 1.1.2022 to 31.12.2022 have been prepared on the basis of the historical cost convention as amended by the adjustment, financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI), financial assets at fair value through profit and loss (FVPL) and financial assets and liabilities (including derivative financial assets) at fair value through profit and loss, the going concern principle and are in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and their interpretations and adopted by the European Union.

The financial statements have complied with the accounting policies used to prepare the financial statements for 2021 adjusted to take account of the revisions required by the IFRS. The company did not apply any international accounting standard early.

The Company's financial statements are prepared and published in Euro, which is the Company's functional currency and the currency of the country in which it is registered.

Company Management is responsible for preparing the financial statements in a way that gives an accurate and fair view of the financial condition, asset structure, results and cash flows.

No changes have been made to accounting estimates (e.g. useful life of assets) since there are no material reasons for such changes.

Going Concern

The Board, taking into account:

- the Company's financial status,
- the risks the Company faces which could have negative impacts on its business model and capital adequacy, and
- the fact that no major uncertainties have been identified in relation to the Company's ability to continue to operate as a "going concern" for the foreseeable future, and in all events for a period of at least 12 months from the date on which the Annual Financial Report was approved, declares that it continues to consider the "going concern" basis as a suitable one for preparing the Company's financial statements and that there are no major uncertainties about the Company's ability to continue to apply this principle in the foreseeable future, and in all events for a period of at least 12 months from the date on which the Annual Financial Report was approved.

2.2 Adoption of new and revised international standards

New standards, interpretations, revisions and amendments to current standards which have entered into force and been adopted by the European Union

The following new Standards, Interpretations and Amendments to Standards have been issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), have been adopted by the European Union and their application is mandatory from 01/01/2022 or later.

- Amendments to IFRS 3 "Business Combinations", IAS 16 "Tangible Assets", IAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets" and "Annual Improvements 2018 - 2020" (applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 01/01/2022)

In May 2020, the IASB issued a series of amendments, including limited-purpose amendments to three Standards, as well as the Board's Annual Improvements. Such amendments provide clarifications regarding the wording of the Standards or correct minor implications, omissions or conflicts between the requirements of the Standards. More specifically:

- The amendments to IFRS 3 "Business Combinations" update a reference of IFRS 3 to the Conceptual Framework of Financial Reporting without modifying the accounting requirements relating to business combinations.
- The amendments to IAS 16 "Tangible Assets" prohibit a company from deducting from the cost of fixed assets amounts received from the sale of items produced during the preparation of said fixed assets to be ready for use. Instead, the company recognizes such sales revenue and related costs in the Income Statement.
- Amendments to IAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets" specify the costs that a company should include when assessing whether a contract is loss-making.
- The Annual Improvements to IFRS - Cycle 2018-2020 make minor amendments to IFRS 1 "First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards", IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments", IAS 41 "Agriculture" and the Explanatory Examples accompanying the IFRS 16 "Leases".

The amendments have no impact on the Financial Statements.

New Standards, Interpretations, Revisions and Amendments to existing Standards which do not have not yet entered into force or been adopted by the European Union

The following new Standards, Interpretations and Amendments to Standards have been issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB), but have either not yet entered into force or have not been adopted by the European Union.

IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts" (applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 01/01/2023)

In May 2017, the IASB issued a new Standard, IFRS 17, which replaces an interim Standard, IFRS 4. The purpose of the IASB's work was to develop a single principle-based standard for the accounting handling of all types of insurance contracts, including reinsurance contracts held by an insurance company. A single principles-based Standard will enhance the comparability of financial reporting across financial entities, jurisdictions and capital markets. IFRS 17 sets out the requirements that an economic entity should apply to the financial information relating to insurance contracts it issues and reinsurance contracts it holds. In addition, in June 2020, the IASB issued amendments which, however, do not affect the fundamental principles introduced when IFRS 17 was originally issued. The amendments are designed to reduce costs by simplifying certain requirements of the Standard, lead to more easily explainable financial performance, as well as facilitate the transition by postponing the implementation date of the Standard to 2023, while providing additional assistance in reducing the effort required when first implementing the Standard. The Company will consider the impact of all of the above on its Financial Statements, although they are not expected to have any. The above has been adopted by the European Union with an effective date of 01/01/2023.

Amendments to IAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements" (applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 01/01/2023)

In February 2021, the IASB issued limited-purpose amendments to accounting policy disclosures. The purpose of the amendments is to improve the disclosures of accounting policies in order to provide more useful information to investors and other users of the Financial Statements. More specifically, the amendments require the disclosure of significant information related to accounting policies, rather than the disclosure of significant accounting policies. The Company will examine the impact of all of the above on its Financial Statements, although they are not expected to have any. The above has been adopted by the European Union starting from 01/01/2023.

Amendments to IAS 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes to Accounting Estimates and Errors: Definition of Accounting Estimates" (applicable for annual periods commencing on or after 01/01/2023).

In February 2021, the IASB issued amendments of limited scope that clarify the difference between a change in accounting estimate and a change in accounting policy. This distinction is significant, since the change in accounting estimate does not apply with retroactive effect but only to future transactions and other future events, in contrast to the change in accounting policy which has retrospective effect and applies to past transactions and other events. The Company will consider the impact of all the above in its Financial Statements, although no such impact is expected. The above has been adopted by the European Union, effective from 01/01/2023.

Amendments to IAS 12 "Income Taxes: Deferred Tax related to Assets and Liabilities arising from Single Transaction" (effective for annual periods starting on or after 01/01/2023)

In May 2021, the IASB issued targeted amendments to IAS 12 to specify how companies should account for deferred tax on transactions such as leases and decommissioning obligations – transactions for which companies recognise both an asset and a liability. In specified circumstances, companies are exempt from recognising deferred tax when they recognise assets or liabilities for the first time. The amendments clarify that the exemption does not apply and that companies are required to recognise deferred tax on such transactions. The Company will examine the impact of the above on its Financial Statements, though it is not expected to have any. The above have been adopted by the European Union with effective date of 01/01/2023.

Amendments to IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts: First-time Application of IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 – Comparative Period Information" (applicable to for annual periods beginning on or after 01/01/2023)

In December 2021, the IASB issued a limited-purpose amendment to the transition requirements in IFRS 17 to address a significant issue related to temporary accounting mismatches between insurance contract liabilities and financial assets in comparative information under of the first application of IFRS 17 "Insurance Contracts" and IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments". The amendment is intended to improve the usefulness of the financial information presented in the comparative period for the users of the Financial Statements. The Company will consider the impact of all of the above on its Financial Statements, although they are not expected to have any. The above has been adopted by the European Union with an effective date of 01/01/2023.

Amendments to IAS 1 "Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current" (applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 01/01/2024)

In January 2020, the IASB issued amendments to IAS 1 that affect the requirements for the presentation of liabilities. Specifically, the amendments clarify one of the criteria for classifying a liability as non-current, the requirement for an entity to have the right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting period. The amendments include: a) clarification that an entity's right to defer settlement should exist at the reporting date, b) clarification that the classification of the liability is not affected by management's intentions or expectations regarding the exercise of the right to defer settlement, c) explain how borrowing conditions affect classification, and d) clarify the requirements regarding liability classification of an entity that is to or may settle by issuing its own equity securities.

In addition, in July 2020, the IASB issued an amendment to postpone by one year the effective date of the originally issued amendment to IAS 1, as a result of the spread of the Covid-19 pandemic. However, in October 2022, the IASB issued an additional amendment aimed at improving the information companies provide about long-term debt commitments. IAS 1 requires a company to classify a loan as non-current only if the company can avoid settling the loan within 12 months after the reporting date. However, a company's ability to do so often depends on compliance with its commitments. The amendments to IAS 1 specify that commitments to be met after the reporting date do not affect the classification of the loan as short-term or long-term at the reporting date. Instead, the amendments to the standard require a company to disclose information about these commitments in the notes to the financial statements. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024, with early adoption permitted. The Company will consider the impact of all of the above on its Financial Statements, although they are not expected to have any. The above has not been adopted by the European Union.

Amendments to IFRS 16 "Leases: Lease Obligations on a Sale and Leaseback" (applicable for annual periods beginning on or after 01/01/2024)

In September 2022, the IASB issued limited-purpose amendments to IFRS 16 "Leases" which add requirements for how a company accounts for a sale and leaseback after the date of the transaction. A sale and leaseback is a transaction in which, a company sells an asset and leases the same asset back for a period of time from the new owner. IFRS 16 includes requirements regarding the accounting treatment of a sale and leaseback at the date the transaction takes place. However, the Standard did not specify how to measure the transaction after that date. The issued amendments add to the requirements of IFRS 16 regarding sale and leaseback, thus supporting the consistent application of the accounting standard. These amendments will not change the accounting treatment for leases other than those arising from a sale and leaseback transaction. The Company will consider the impact of all of the above on its Financial Statements, although they are not expected to have any. The above have not been adopted by the European Union.

2.3 Use of estimates and assumptions

Preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the IFRS requires the use of detailed accounting estimates and judgement when the Company applies its accounting policies. The most important of the assumptions made are based on the best possible knowledge of Company Management and are set out in the notes to the financial statements, whenever required. Despite the fact that these assessments are based on the best knowledge available to Management about current affairs and activities, the actual results may differ from those estimated.

Estimates and relevant assumptions are re-examined at regular intervals. Deviations in accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which they are re-examined if they relate only to the current period or if they relate to future periods, the deviations affect current and future periods.

2.4 Foreign currency

Transactions in a foreign currency are converted into Euro using the fixing rate applicable on the date of the transaction, as it appears in the ECB Price Bulletin. On the reporting date of the financial statements, currency assets denominated in a foreign currency are converted to euro at the exchange rate which applies on that date. Foreign exchange differences which arise from conversion are presented in the income statement. Foreign exchange differences from non-currency assets valued at fair value.

2.5 Income and expenses

Portfolio income is recognised and posted to the income statement and primarily includes: a) dividends from shares listed on the Athens Exchange and on foreign exchanges, b) interest on time deposits, repos and other investments which have the features of time deposits and c) interest income from bonds or other investments similar to bonds.

Income from dividends is recognised as income on the date the dividends are paid. The results from the purchase/sale of securities are recognised and posted to the income statement and include gains or losses from the purchase/sale of securities (shares, bonds, mutual funds, results from derivatives, etc.) and the results from the valuation of securities at the end of each period to which the company's financial statements relate.

Other income/expenses include foreign exchange differences (debit or credit) from transactions and/or valuation.

Recognition of Expenses

Expenses are posted when incurred and can be divided into expenditure relating to:

- a) portfolio management (custodianship fees, management fees, commission and transaction costs, third party fees, etc.).
- b) administrative operations of the company (staff salaries and expenses, third party fees, rents, third party benefits, telecommunications, etc.).
- c) portfolio tax under Law 3371/2005 as in force today.

2.6 Portfolio tax

Taxes deducted from the results for the period relate exclusively to current income tax. There are no deferred taxes since there are no interim differences between the book and tax basis of assets and liabilities due to the taxation regime for companies in the sector. Current income tax is calculated and paid every six months. The company is taxed based on Article 55 of Law 4646/2019 “on tax reform with a development dimension for the Greece of the future”, which states that investment portfolio companies are obliged to pay tax at a rate of 10% of the current European Central Bank intervention rate (Benchmark Rate) augmented by 1% and calculated on the half-yearly average of their investments plus cash assets at current prices. Where the Benchmark Rate changes, the new basis for calculating tax applies from the first day of the month after the change. Tax is paid to the competent tax authority within the first 15 days of the months of July and January of the 6-month period after the calculation. Payment of this tax fulfils the tax obligations of both the company and its shareholders. The provisions of Law 4174/2013 (Government Gazette 170/A) apply by analogy to the tax owed under the provisions of this paragraph.

2.7 Financial assets

The company's main financial assets are cash, short-term investments and short-term receivables and liabilities.

Company cash is placed in accordance with the provisions of the applicable legislation on portfolio investment companies.

Short-term investments include the company's portfolio, which the company's management classifies as “held for commercial purposes”. The permitted investments comprising the Company's portfolio are set out in Article 30 of Codified Law 3371/2005, as currently in force.

In this case initial recognition is at fair value without any transaction expenses being imputed to it and subsequently is also valued at fair value and classified in the “Financial assets presented at fair value through profit and loss” account as specified in the IFRS 9.

For securities traded on active markets (exchanges) (e.g. shares, bonds, derivatives) the values published on the reporting date for preparation of the financial statements are taken as the fair value.

Use of derivative financial instruments is subject to the terms, conditions and restrictions laid down in decisions of the Hellenic Capital Market Commission.

As regards other financial instruments (liabilities or receivables), the Company's management team, considering their short-term nature decided that their fair value matches with the value at which they are presented in the accounting books.

Commitments on short-term investments are referred to separately in the financial statements.

2.8 Tangible assets

Fixed assets are presented in the financial statements at acquisition cost, less accumulated depreciation.

Expenses incurred to replace major fittings and fixtures are capitalised. Other subsequent expenses incurred in relation to assets are capitalised only where they increase future economic benefits expected to arise from use of the assets affected. All other maintenance, repair and other expenses for assets are posted to the income statement as expenses at the time they are incurred.

Depreciation is presented in the income statement using the fixed line method over the entire useful life of the fixed asset.

The Company does not have tangible assets.

2.9 Short-term receivables

Company receivables are short-term and consequently there is no need to discount them at present value. Receivables from securities firms include unsettled sales of the company's financial assets less expected credit losses (note 2.18).

The amount of expected credit losses is posted as an expense to the results for the period. On the balance sheet date no provision for this point was formed.

2.10 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash includes cash in the Company's treasury and cash equivalents such as repos, sight and short-term time deposits in euro and in a foreign currency realisable at a known amount and consequently are at negligible risk of a change in their value.

Time deposits are valued at fair value which is the initial investment plus accrued interest, free of tax, on the financial statement reporting date.

On the date the financial statements were prepared, monetary assets denominated in foreign currencies are converted to euro at the fixing rate which applies on that date (as shown in the ECB price bulletin). Foreign exchange differences which arise from conversion are presented in the income statement.

2.11 Share capital

Ordinary shares are classed as equity. Direct expenses for issuing shares are presented as reducing equity. Share capital increases involving cash payments include all share premiums at the time the share capital is initially issued. The price paid which is above the nominal value of each share is entered in the share premium account.

2.12 Treasury shares

If the Company acquires its “own shares” in accordance with a decision of the General Meeting, they must be deducted from its equity. Upon the purchase, sale, issuance or cancellation of the company’s own equity instruments, no profit or loss is recognised in the income statement.

2.13 Dividends

Dividends payable are presented as a liability after approval by the General Meeting of Shareholders based on the provisions of the applicable legislation and the Articles of Association.

2.14 Provisions

Provisions are recorded when the company has a legal or presumed obligation as a result of past events and it is likely that an outflow of resources will be needed to settle the liability.

2.15 Liabilities

All company liabilities are shown in the balance sheet at fair value. Liabilities to securities firms include unsettled purchases of the company’s financial assets. These liabilities are presented as their accounting balances because it is not considered necessary to discount them at present value due to their short-term nature. Moreover, other current liabilities which relate to liabilities incurred or in the form of provisions such as management fees, portfolio performance fees, custodian expenses, suppliers, etc. do not need to be discounted due to their short-term nature.

2.16 Operating Segments

An operating segment is a constitutive part of an economic entity:

- a) which includes business activities which generate income and entail expenses (including income and expenses relating to transactions with other constitutive parts of the same economic entity).
- b) whose results are examined regularly by the entity’s decision-maker to take decisions about the allocation of resources to the segment and to assess its performance.
- c) for which separate financial information is available.

The company operates exclusively in a single business sector, namely managing a Greek and foreign securities portfolio and other financial instruments in accordance with the provisions of Codified Law 3371/2005. Its purpose is to generate revenues and ensure capital appreciation over the medium-term.

2.17 Related parties

The purpose of IAS 24 is to ensure that the financial statements of an economic entity contain the disclosures required to draw attention to the possibility that its financial position and profit or loss may have been affected by the existence of related parties and by transactions and outstanding balances, including commitments, relating to those related parties. The company is not associated with an economic entity which prepares financial statements.

2.18 Financial Instruments

IFRS 9 lays down the conditions for recognising and measuring financial assets, financial liabilities and certain contracts for the purchase or sale of non-financial assets.

i. Classification and valuation of financial assets and financial liabilities.

According to IFRS 9, a financial asset can be measured in the following categories:

- a) at amortised cost.
- b) at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI) or
- c) at fair value through profit and loss (FVPL).

The classification of financial assets under IFRS 9 is generally based on the business model under which a financial asset is managed and the characteristics of its contractual cash flows. Derivatives embedded in contracts where the object is a financial asset from the viewpoint of the standard are never separated. On the contrary, the entire hybrid financial instrument is examined for classification purposes.

A) A financial asset is valued at amortised cost if it meets both the following conditions and is not designated as being valued at fair value through profit and loss:

- It is held based on a business model whose objective is to hold contractual cash flows to be collected and
- The contractual terms provide for cash flows on specific dates which are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding.

B) An investment in securities is valued at fair value through other comprehensive income if it meets both the following conditions and is not designated as being valued at fair value through profit and loss:

- It is held based on a business model whose object is both the inflow of contractual cash flows and the sale of financial assets.
- The contractual terms provide for cash flows on specific dates which are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding.

C) Upon initial recognition of an investment in equity instruments not available for sale, the company can irrevocably opt to present subsequent changes in the fair value of the investment in other comprehensive income.

D) All financial assets not classified as valued at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, as specified above, are valued at fair value through profit and loss. This includes all derivative financial instruments.

Upon initial recognition, the company can irrevocably designate a financial asset which in all other respects meets the conditions for being valued at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income as an asset to be measured at fair value through profit and loss if this avoids or significantly reduces an accounting discrepancy that could arise.

A financial asset (unless it is a trade receivable without a significant financial part initially measured at the transaction price) is initially valued at fair value plus transaction costs directly associated with the acquisition, in the case of assets not measured at fair value through profit and loss.

Financial assets valued at amortised cost	These assets are valued at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. amortised cost is reduced by the amount of impairment losses. Income from interest, credit and debit foreign exchange differences and impairment losses are recognised in the income statement. Any gain or loss arising from derecognition is recognised in the results.
Investments in securities at fair value through other comprehensive income	These assets are valued at fair value. Income from interest is calculated using the effective interest rate method, credit and debit foreign exchange differences and asset impairment losses are recognised in the income statement. Other net profits and losses are recognised as other comprehensive income. Upon derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in other comprehensive income are reclassified in the results.
Investments in equity instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income	These assets are valued at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in the income statement unless the dividend clearly reflects recovery of part of the investment cost. Other net profits and losses are recognised as other comprehensive income and are never reclassified in the results.
Financial assets valued at fair value through profit or loss	These assets are valued at fair value. The net benefit or loss, including interest or dividend income, is recognised in profit or loss.

ii. Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets at amortised cost consist of trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents and corporate securities.

According to IFRS 9, loss provisions are valued on any of the following bases:

- 12-month expected credit losses: These arise from possible credit events within 12 months from the reporting date and
- Expected lifetime credit losses: These are the result of possible credit events during the expected life of the financial instrument.

The company values the loss provisions at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses apart from the following, which are valued as 12-month expected credit losses:

- Securities designed to have low credit risk on the reporting date and
- Other securities and bank balances for which the credit risk (e.g. the risk of default arising during the expected life of the financial instrument) has not increased significantly since initial recognition.

The company has opted to value the loss provisions for trade receivables and contracts at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses.

alphatrust andromeda

When the credit risk of a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition and when expected credit losses are estimated, the company collects valuable information which is relevant and available without excessive cost or effort. This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the company's historical experience and knowledge-based risk assessment and including information for the future.

The company assumes that the credit risk of a financial instrument has increased significantly if it is 90 days since the date of payment.

When the credit risk for a financial instrument has increased significantly, the company must take into account the change in default risk after initial recognition.

For the purposes of determining risk of default, the company applies a definition of default which is consistent with the definition used for the purposes of internal management of credit risk for the relevant financial instrument and takes into account qualitative indicators, where applicable.

The company considers that there is default no later than 30 days after a financial instrument is in arrears, unless the company has reasonable and well-founded information which shows that a longer period of arrears is appropriate before applying the default criterion.

To evaluate the credit risk, portfolio allocation for each credit rating obtained through Bloomberg is used; this results from compositing the credit ratings provided by the four major credit rating firms (S&P, Moody's, Fitch and DBRS). If the result falls between two credit ratings, the lower one is used.

The maximum period used to estimate expected credit losses is the maximum period for which the company is exposed to credit risk under contract.

Measurement of expected credit losses

Expected credit losses are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are calculated as the present value of all cash differences (e.g. the difference between cash flows owed to the entity under contract and cash flows which the company expects to receive).

Expected credit losses are discounted at the effective interest rate for the financial instrument.

To measure expected credit loss, trade receivables have been grouped based on credit risk features and default times.

Credit risk financial assets

In each reporting period, the company examines to what extent financial instruments measured at amortised cost and securities at fair value through other comprehensive income are risky from a credit viewpoint. A financial instrument is a 'credit risk' when one or more events which have a detrimental effect on the estimated future cash flows of the financial instrument have occurred.

Presentation of bad debt

Provisions for losses for financial instruments valued at amortised cost are deducted from the balance of the value of assets.

Bad debt losses related to trade and other receivables, including contracts, are presented separately in the statement of income and other comprehensive income.

Bad debt losses related to other financial instruments are presented in “financial costs” and not separately in the statement of income and other income for materiality reasons.

2.19 Leases

Recognition and Initial Measurement of Right-of-Use Assets

On the start date of each lease, the company recognises a right-of-use asset and a lease liability by measuring the right-of-use asset at cost.

The cost of the right-of-use asset includes:

- The amount of initial measurement of the lease liability (see below);
- Any rents payments effected before or after the start date of the lease, less any lease incentives collected;
- The initial direct costs borne by the lessee; and
- An estimate of the costs to be incurred by the company for: disassembly and removal of the leased asset; restoration of the space where the leased asset is located or restoration of the leased asset, as per the terms and conditions of the lease agreement. The company assumes responsibility for these costs either at the start date of the term of the lease or as a result of the use of the leased asset over a specific period of time.

Initial Measurement of the Lease Liability

On the start date of the lease the company measures the lease liability at the present value of the lease payments outstanding for payment as at that date. If it is possible to determine the implicit interest rate of the lease, then lease payments will be discounted based on such rate. If not, the company’s marginal borrowing rate applies.

On the start date of the lease, any lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability include the following payments in relation to the right-of-use asset during the term of lease, provided that no payments were effected by the start date of the lease:

- (a) Fixed payments, less any lease incentives receivable;
 - (b) Any variable lease payments tied to an index or a rate, which are initially measured based on the value of the respective index or rate on the start date of the lease;
 - (c) Amounts expected to be payable by the company under residual value guarantees;
 - (d) The exercise price of a purchase option, if the company is reasonably certain to exercise that option;
- and

(e) Payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the company exercising the option to terminate the lease.

Subsequent Measurement of Right-of-Use Assets

After the start date of the term of lease, the company measures right-of-use assets based on the cost model.

The company measures right-of-use assets at cost:

- (a) Less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses; and
- (b) Adjusted for any subsequent measurement of the lease liability.

The company applies the requirements of IAS 16 regarding depreciation of the right-of-use asset, which is examined to identify any impairment.

Subsequent Measurement of the Lease Liability

After the start date of the lease, the company measures the lease liability as follows:

- (a) By increasing the book value to reflect the financial cost of the lease liability;
- (b) By reducing the book value to reflect lease payments already effected; and
- (c) Remeasuring the book value to reflect any revaluation or amendment of the lease.

The financial cost of a lease liability is allocated over the term of the lease in such a manner as to derive a constant periodic rate of return on the outstanding balance of the liability.

After the start date of the lease, the company recognises both of the following items in loss or profit (unless the costs are included in the book value of another asset under another Standard):

- (a) Financial cost on the lease liability, and
- (b) Variable lease payments that are not included in the measurement of the lease liability are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which the event or condition that triggers payment occurs.

3 Financial risk management

Management of the Company's portfolio and risk management (investment management) in accordance with the decisions of its Board of Directors dated 22.2.2018 and 31/05/2022 have been assigned under the Alternative Investment Fund Management Agreement to Alpha Trust MUTUAL FUND AND ALTERNATIVE INVESTMENT FUND MANAGEMENT CO. S.A. which implements the investment policy which has been laid down.

The Board of Directors has also appointed an Investments Committee, which has an exclusively consultative nature, for the Company's investment matters.

To limit and control investment portfolio risks, the Company's Board of Directors awarded risk management

alphatrust andromeda

to the Manager under contract, who uses portfolio risk monitoring systems that are suitable for the risk profile of the Company's portfolio to ensure that all the key risks are measured precisely.

The Company opts for a suitable methodology based on the current legislative framework to calculate overall risk exposure for the portfolio it manages. This is defined as the relative value-at-risk method.

In accordance with Article 15 of the relevant decision, the relative value-at-risk model selected takes into account at least general market risk and idiosyncratic risk, on a case-by-case basis.

Other risks to which each portfolio of the Company is exposed are taken into account in the context of the stress tests that are run. In addition to that, the degree to which the Company's portfolio is exposed to the following risks is also weighed up:

The Company holds financial products in its investment portfolio based on the investment strategy it has developed and the restrictions laid down in Codified Law 3371/2005 as in force today, which sets the investment limits and type of investments that can be made by portfolio investment companies. The investment portfolio includes domestic shares and Greek government bonds. The portfolio per investment category can be broken down as follows:

	31.12.2022	31.12.2021
Non-current assets	0.02	15,047.85
Shares listed on ATHEX	19,011,533.83	14,336,757.29

*In stocks listed to the Stock Exchange the value of treasury shares is included and it is not included in net asset value.

The bonds also include the value of accrued interest of the bonds and they are not included in cash and cash equivalents and other receivables.

Cash and cash equivalents and other receivables and the Total Liabilities can be broken down as follows:

	31/12/2022	31/12/2021

3.1 Market risk

Market risk refers to the possibility of loss due to changes in the current prices of shares, interest rates, exchange rates etc.

To limit this risk, the Company chooses the companies in which it invests based on qualitative and economic criteria. The Company does not invest more than 20% of its equity in securities of the same issuer.

Basic Allocation of Portfolio

	31/12/2022	31/12/2021
Shares as a percentage of Assets	76.30%	86.91%
Bonds as a percentage of Assets	4.23%	1.98%
Mutual funds as percentage of the Assets	8.03%	0.00%
Shares as a percentage of Equity	77.05%	94.94%
Bonds as a percentage of Equity	4.28%	2.17%
Mutual funds as percentage of the Equity	8.11%	0.00%

Currency risk

The impact of the change in exchange rates for various currencies does not materially affect the Company's results because almost all assets are invested in euro (€).

Currency Allocation of Portfolio

	31/12/2022	31/12/2021
Euro	100%	100%
	100%	100%

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk arises from changes in interest rate markets. Fluctuations in interest rates greatly affect the present value of expected cash flows from an investment or a liability.

The table below shows the Company's exposure to interest rate risk by including the book balances of assets and liabilities classified at either the interest rate adjustment date or the maturity date, whichever is earliest or, in the case of bonds, in the modified duration.

Value at Risk (VaR)

The Company ensures that the method of calculation of the global risk exposure is adequate, precise and reliable. To this end, the Historical VaR methodology has been chosen and VaR is calculated on a daily basis using the Systemic SA system. The relative value-at-risk approach is applied to the Company's portfolio and its benchmark index on a daily basis, taking into account the following parameters:

- confidence interval of ninety-nine percent (99%);
- a period of observations of risk factors of 1 year (250 working days) from the calculation date;
- an investment horizon of one (1) month (20 working days);
- the relative value-at-risk measure of the portfolio expressed as a percentage of the current value of the portfolio (as in the case of the benchmark portfolio).
- checking that the portfolio's Value-at-Risk is not more than twice the Value-at-Risk of the benchmark portfolio, to ensure that the Company's total leverage ratio remains does not go over 2.

The daily VaR for the portfolio and benchmark rate for one year until 31/12/2022 and one year until 31/12/2021 is presented in the tables below:

market risk	Average value	Highest Value	Lowest Value
daily change in portfolio %	0.00%	4.24%	-5.95%
Portfolio Value-at-Risk	-3.32%	-2.17%	-4.53%
Benchmark Value-at-Risk	-4.25%	-3.68%	-4.75%
Portfolio VaR to Benchmark VaR	78.46%	103.15%	48.89%

market risk	Average value	Highest Value	Lowest Value
daily change in portfolio %	0.10%	2.23%	-3.57%
Portfolio Value-at-Risk	-3.81%	-2.58%	-8.27%
Benchmark Value-at-Risk	-5.33%	-3.69%	-11.72%
Portfolio VaR to Benchmark VaR	72.82%	99.69%	62.14%

The above methodology for measuring market risk includes not only the sensitivity of portfolio performance to major market risks (equity, interest rate, currency) to which the portfolio is exposed, but also the correlations among them. Therefore, it is considered to provide a better and more realistic assessment of the overall market risk faced by the portfolio.

The Company also uses back testing, which compares the Relative-Value-at-Risk measurements

calculated using the daily changes in the value of the Company's portfolio at the end of the previous working day. In the last year two excesses took place on 23/02/2022 and 03/03/2022.

Additionally, the Company implements a system of stress testing, based on strict and sufficient criteria for risk calculation. These tests are performed monthly, using the portfolio line-up, as it stood on the last working day of the previous month, and focus on the risks that may arise in specific extreme historical scenarios or conditions of unusual change, such as conditions of lack of liquidity or where there is a credit incident in the markets the company's portfolio invests in. Stress testing focuses on risks not fully covered by the relative VaR method.

With respect to fixed income securities, we assess the sensitivity of bond prices to a marginal change in the level of interest rates through "modified duration". Placements in fixed yield securities at the end of 2022 are shown below:

31/12/2022

Name of security	Type of security	Value in €	% holding	Modified Duration

		1,055,058.42	4.28%

while the bond placements at the end of 2021 were as follows:

31/12/2021

Name of security	Type of security	Value in €	% holding	Modified Duration
TPEIR 9.75% 26/6/2029	FIX	101,632.58	0.67%	2.65
TPEIR 5.50 19/2/2030	FIX	225,707.84	1.49%	2.16
		327,340.42	2.17%

3.2 Credit risk

Credit risk refers to cases of default by counterparties in meeting their obligations. This category mainly includes government and corporate bonds, repurchase bonds (repos), receivables from counterparty brokers and cash in banks.

To evaluate the credit risk, portfolio allocation for each credit rating obtained through Bloomberg is used; this results from compositing the credit ratings provided by the four major credit rating firms (S&P, Moody's, Fitch and DBRS). If the result falls between two credit ratings, the lower one is used.

The Company's portfolio on 31.12.2022 contains investments in fixed yield securities (corporate / government bonds) and does not contain bond repurchase agreements:

Credit risk		12/2022
Credit rating	Value	% holding in portfolio
Caa3	1,055,058.42	4.28%
	1,055,058.42	4.28%

The corresponding picture at the end of 2021 was:

Credit risk		12/2021
Credit rating	Value	% holding in portfolio
Caa3	327,340.42	2.17%
	327,340.42	2.17%

Receivables from Brokers

Receivables from Brokers relate primarily to sales of securities in the last three days, margin accounts and guarantees.

The credit risk of these receivables is considered low due to the limited time frame for their clearance and the recovery from the counterparties.

Cash in hand

The Company has deposits in banks whose credit rating can be broken down as follows:

	12/2022	12/2021
Optima Bank	N/A	N/A
Alpha Bank	N/A	N/A
Societe Generale Bank and Trust	N/A	A
Piraeus Bank	B	B+

Source: Bank websites (S&P long term rating)

Derivatives

During the year the Company did not use derivative financial products.

3.3 Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk of default on financial obligations when they become due, because of lack of the necessary liquidity. Liquidity risk relates to the degree to which an investment position or part of a portfolio can be liquidated. (as a percentage of the total value and the time required to fully liquidate the portfolio).

According to this, for a given portfolio composition, the percentage that can be liquidated per day and the length of time required for complete portfolio liquidation is assessed based on the marketability of its individual positions (source: Bloomberg). For the purposes of a conservative approach, it is considered that the liquidation ceiling is a share volume not exceeding one third of the average daily transactions in the previous quarter; placements in cash, time deposits and money market funds are considered as highly liquid (the value of shares includes the value of treasury shares).

alphatrust andromeda

Considering the line-up of the portfolio on 31.12.2022 and 31.12.2021, these estimates are as follows:

Option to fully liquidate position (days)	31.12.2022		31.12.2021
	Value	% holding in Portfolio	Value	% holding in Portfolio
1 day	8,593,383.25	34.83%	3,595,941.38	23.81%
2 days	2,336,987.71	9.47%	692,542.28	4.59%
3 days	1,178,365.40	4.78%	291,124.10	1.93%
4 days	620,775.00	2.52%	644,490.00	4.27%
5– 10 days	3,526,862.31	14.29%	2,274,872.97	15.06%
10 – 20 days	1,392,891.08	5.64%	2,161,463.96	14.31%
20 – 30 days	3,391,805.85	13.75%	3,172,625.00	21.01%
> 30 days	2,578,928.91	10.45%	1,940,908.58	12.85%
	23,619,999.51	95.72%	14,773,968.27	97.83%

Based on the table of investments at the end of 2022, the portfolio's balance is placed in cash assets which are considered to be directly realisable, while there is also a balance in bonds for which there is no data on equity instruments which can be used to calculate liquidity.

3.4 Operational Risk

Operational risk is the risk associated with the potential of direct or indirect losses caused by a range of factors relating to the Company's internal processes, information systems and infrastructure and external factors, such as various providers, the institutional framework and generally accepted standards of investment management behaviour.

The Company aims to manage operational risk so as to limit the potential damage to its reputation and to achieve the goals set for its shareholders. The overall responsibility for the development and implementation of the necessary procedures for the smooth conduct of the Company's activities lies with the Board of Directors.

Management of the Company's portfolio and risk management (Investment Management) within the meaning of Article 6 (2b) of Law 4209/2013 have been assigned to ALPHA TRUST Mutual Fund and Alternative Investment Fund Management Co. S.A. by decision of its Board of Directors dated 22.2.2018 and 31/05/2022 under an Alternative Investment Fund Management Agreement. Both companies are supervised by the Hellenic Capital Market Commission.

Additionally, it should be noted that:

- a) The above agreement is regularly renewed on an annual basis and approved each time by the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.
- b) By law, all securities and assets are held by an independent depository, who also signs the portfolio investment tables published and made available to the investing public.
- c) The internal auditor collaborates with and monitors the functioning of the various activities assigned to ALPHA TRUST Mutual Fund and Alternative Investment Fund Management Co. S.A. and discourages and minimises the likelihood of issues that can cause problems in the operation of the Company arising.
- d) The Company's Managing Director monitors the implementation of these agreements daily and directly addresses any operational issues that may arise.

Counterparty Risk: To assess this risk, the daily receivables/liabilities relating to the counter-party, namely the Depository, are presented, given that all transactions are entered into on regulated markets. In the event that they enter into transactions for financial instruments that are not traded on a regulated market, the risk per counterparty is calculated based on the Value-at-Risk approach, where the counterparty fails to fulfil their obligations.

3.5 Financial Instruments

i. Fair value of financial instruments

IFRS 13 "Fair Value Measurement" describes the fair value as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

Fair value measurement relates to a specific asset or liability. Consequently, when measuring fair value, the company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those features into account when pricing the asset or liability on the measurement date.

ii. Fair value hierarchy

To increase the consistency and comparability of fair value measurements and related disclosures, IFRS 13 sets a fair value hierarchy which categorises inputs in valuation techniques used to measure fair value on three levels.

Level 1: Level 1 inputs are official stock exchange prices (without adjustment) in markets for identical assets or liabilities to which the company has access on the measurement date. An official stock exchange price in an active market provides the most reliable evidence of fair value and is used without adjustment to measure fair value whenever available.

The company values the shares based on the official stock exchange prices traded on the Athens Exchange, while Bloomberg (Bloomberg Generic Prices) is used as a source for government bonds and compared to the Electronic Secondary Securities Market System (ESSMS) prices.

Level 2: Level 2 inputs are inputs beyond the official stock exchange prices included at Level 1 which are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly. If the asset or liability has a fixed (contractual) term, a Level 2 input must be observable for essentially the full life of the asset or liability.

The company values shares not listed on regulated markets based on the expected present value technique, which uses as a starting point a set of cash flows representing the probability-weighted average of all possible future cash flows (expected cash flows).

Level 3: Level 3 inputs are non-observable inputs for the asset or liability. Non-observable inputs are used to measure fair value to the extent that there are no observable inputs available, which covers situations where there is little or no activity in the market for the asset or liability at the measurement date. However, the objective of measuring fair value remains the same, namely an exit price on the measurement date from the perspective of a market participant who holds the asset or owes the liability.

iii. Transfers between levels

There were no transfers between levels and no transfers in any direction during the year which ended on 31 December 2021.

The table below shows the book value and fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities including their levels in the fair value hierarchy. It does not include information about fair value for financial assets and financial liabilities not measured at fair value if the book value is a reasonable approximation of fair value.

Trade and other receivables, cash and cash equivalents and trade liabilities valued at amortised cost are not included in the fair value hierarchy table below. Their fair value does not materially differ from their book value since the majority have a maturity date of less than one month.

31/12/2022	Book value				Fair value
	Fair value through profits and losses (FVPL)	Fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI)	Financial assets at amortized cost	Financial liabilities at amortized cost fair value	Total	Tier 1	Tier 2	Tier 3
Financial assets valued at fair value
